

REFERENCES

- AALEN, O. O. & HOEM, J. M. (1978). Random time changes for multivariate counting processes. Scandinavian Actuarial Journal, 1978, 81–101.
- BEARD, R. E. & PERKS, W. (1949). The relation between the distribution of sickness and the effect of duplicates on the distribution of deaths. J.I.A., 75, 75–86.
- BORGAN, Ø. (1984). Maximum likelihood estimation in parametric counting process models, with applications to censored failure time data. Scandinavian Journal of Statistics, 11, 1–16.
- BOND, D. J. (1963). Permanent sickness insurance. J.I.A.S.S., 17, 195–224.
- CMI COMMITTEE (1976). Investigation of Sickness Statistics—Individual Policies 1972 and 1973. C.M.I.R., 2, 1–55.
- CMI COMMITTEE (1979). Sickness Experience 1972–75 for Individual Policies. C.M.I.R., 4, 1–91.
- CMI COMMITTEE (1984). Sickness Experience 1975–78 for Individual Policies. C.M.I.R., 7, 1–161.
- CMI COMMITTEE (1988). Graduation of the 1979–82 Mortality Experiences. C.M.I.R., 9, 1–102.
- COX, D. R. & MILLER, H. D. (1965). The Theory of Stochastic Processes. Methuen & Co., London.
- DAW, R. H. (1951). Duplicate policies in mortality data. J.I.A., 77, 262–267.
- DILLNER, C-G. (1969). New bases for non-cancellable sickness insurance in Sweden. Skandinavisk Aktuarietidskrift, 52, 113–124.
- DU PASQUIER, L. G. (1912, 1913). Mathematische Theorie der Invaliditätsversicherung. Mitteilungen der Vereinigung schweizerischer Versicherungsmathematiker, 7, 1–7; 8, 1–153.
- FORFAR, D. O., MCCUTCHEON, J. J. & WILKIE, A. D. (1988). On graduation by mathematical formula. J.I.A., 115, 1–149 and T.F.A., 41, 97–269.
- HOEM, J. M. (1969). Some notes on the qualifying period in disability insurance. II. Problems of maximum likelihood estimation. Mitteilungen der Vereinigung schweizerischer Versicherungsmathematiker, 69, 301–317.
- HOEM, J. M. (1972). Inhomogeneous semi-Markov processes, select actuarial tables and duration dependence in demography. In GREVILLE, T. N. E. (ed.) Population Dynamics. Academic Press, New York.
- HOEM, J. M. (1976). The statistical theory of demographic rates: a review of current developments. Scandinavian Journal of Statistics, 3, 169–185.
- HOEM, J. M. (1987). Statistical analysis of a multiplicative model and its application to the standardization of vital rates: a review. International Statistical Review, 55, 119–152.
- HOEM, J. M. & FUNCK JENSEN, U. (1982). Multistate life table methodology: a probabilist critique. In LAND, K. C. & ROGERS, A. (eds.) Multidimensional Mathematical Demography. Academic Press, New York.

- MEDIN, K. (1952). Some theoretical aspects of permanent sickness insurance. J.I.A.S.S., 11, 76–103.
- NEILL, A. (1977). Life Contingencies. Heinemann, London.
- SCHOU, G. & VAETH, M. (1980). A small sample study of occurrence/exposure rates for rare events. Scandinavian Actuarial Journal, 1980, 209–225.
- STARKE, L. G. K. (1980). The duration of sickness. J.I.A., 107, 365–372.
- SVERDRUP, E. (1965). Estimates and test procedures in connection with stochastic models for deaths, recoveries and transfers between different states of health. Scandinavian Actuarial Journal, 1965, 184–211.
- SANDERS, A. J. & SILBY, N. F. (1988). Actuarial aspects of PHI in the UK. J.I.A.S.S., 31, 1–57.
- SANSOM, R. (1978). Practical PHI. J.I.A.S.S., 22, 64–133.
- WATERS, H. R. (1984). An approach to the study of multiple state models. J.I.A., 111, 363–374.
- WATERS, H. R. & WILKIE, A. D. (1987). A short note on the construction of life tables and multiple decrement tables. J.I.A., 114, 569–580.