

LEGAL NOTES

It has been decided by the Council that publication of these notes, which have been a regular feature of the Journal since 1907, shall cease. In future, however, notes will be included in the Journal as occasion arises, dealing with changes in the law of direct concern to the actuarial profession, whether such changes are due to new legislation or to decisions of the Courts. These notes will, it is hoped, be of a general nature, giving, where necessary, the background of the change and the history leading up to it.
