APL

Bryan Joseph
Fred Duncan
This Workshop explores the use of APL in non-life actuarial work:

- It provides an introduction to the language;
- a demonstration of some sample code; and
- a demonstration of a number of practical application written to take advantage of new features and developments within APL;
- we will also provide information on the standard statistical packages written in APL and available for commercial use.