

The Actuarial Profession

making financial sense of the future

How to get on in Business

Brian Wood

7th November 2006

Brian Wood

- CEO of Telos Solutions: change management in financial services
 - www.telossolutions.co.uk
- Previously CEO of two life companies and a consulting firm
- Faculty Council
 - Working on the Profession's strategy implementation
- Master practitioner, Neuro-linguistic programming
 - Pragmatic psychology

The Business Paradox

Business decisions
require:

- logic
- precision
- clarity

Business results
are delivered by people, who need:

- understanding
- influence
- leadership

To 'get on' in Business,
you have to 'get on' with other people.

Basic tools

- State
- Perception
- Decision levels
- Rapport & influence

Basic tools

- State
- Perception
- Decision levels
- Rapport & influence

Mind and Body

Mind directs Body ...

... and Body directs Mind

Mind and Body: part of the same cybernetic system

- Change state by visualising
- Change state by moving body
- Powerful tool for preparation in business

Basic tools

- State
- Perception
- Decision levels
- Rapport & influence

Everyone's perception is unique

- Unique filters
- Unique memories
- Unique interpretation

Basic tools

- State
- Perception
- Decision levels
- Rapport & influence

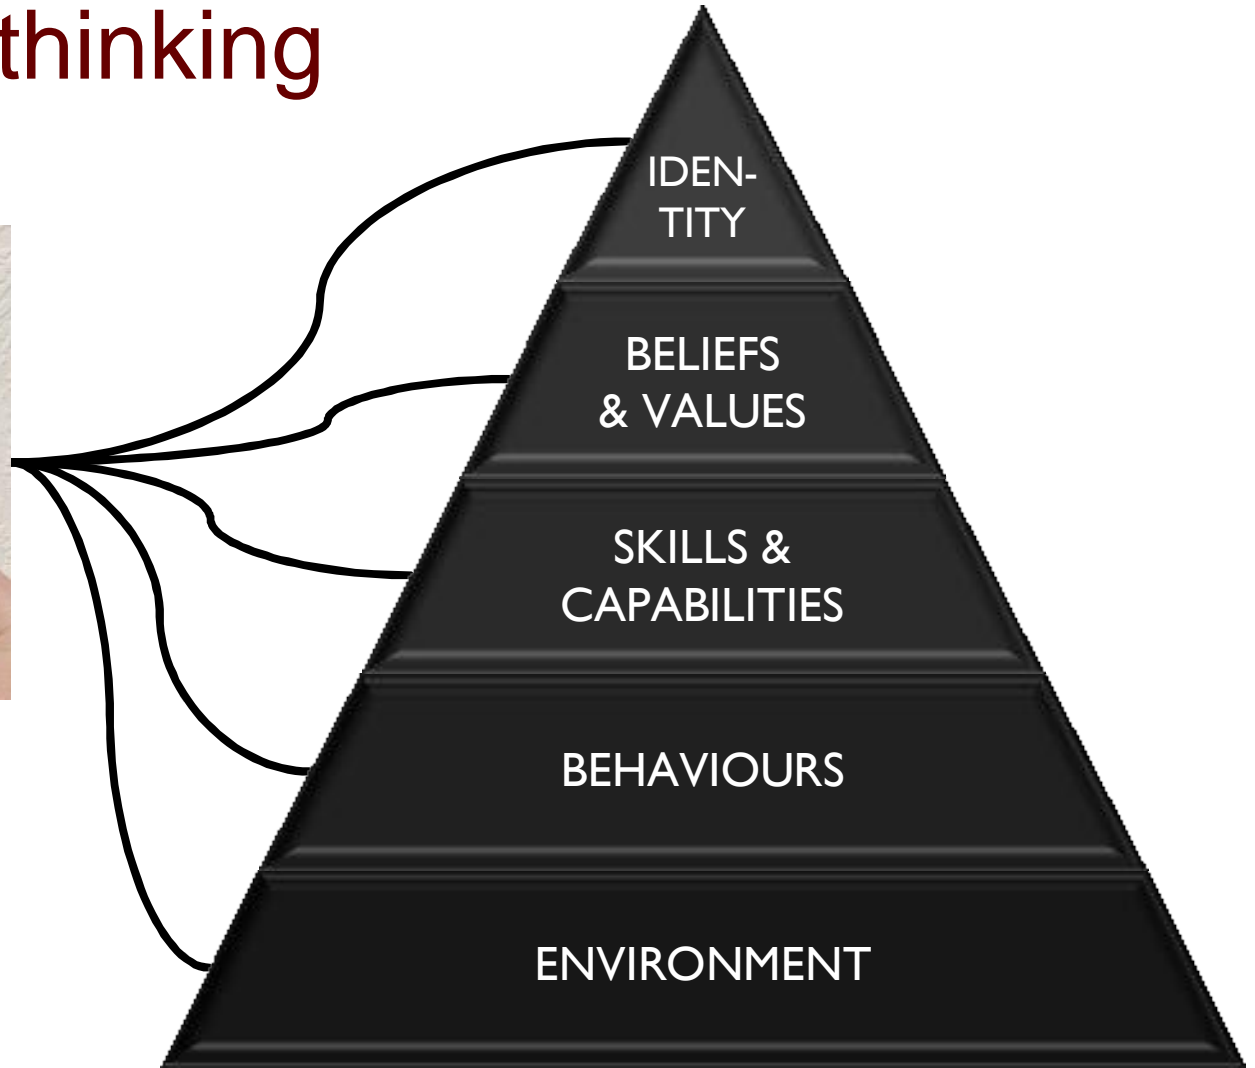

Levels of thinking

“You don’t solve a problem at the same level of thinking that it was created at”

- Albert Einstein

Levels of thinking

Levels of thinking

- Lowest levels are easiest to change
- Usually enough to get business results
- Higher levels more indirect & difficult

Basic tools

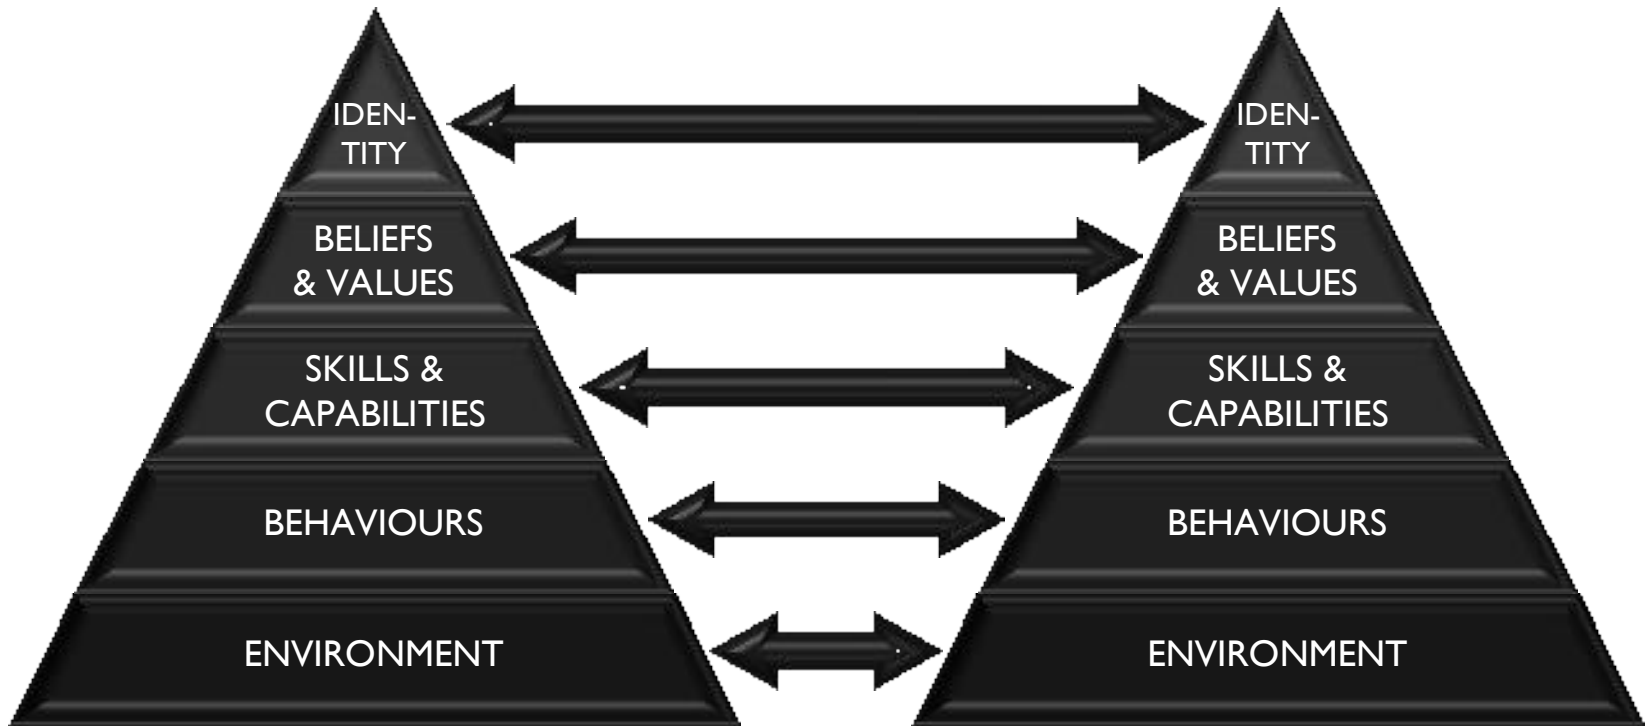

- State
- Perception
- Decision levels
- Rapport & influence

Influence (Cialdini)

Rapport: matching at all levels

Rapport: matching at all levels

Pace first, then lead

- Establish rapport
 - step into the other person's world
- Match across as many levels as possible
- Maintain your own congruence

Influence (Cialdini)

Consistency

Reciprocity

Influence (Cialdini)

Basic tools

- State
- Perception
- Decision levels
- Rapport & influence

Getting on with people

- Your view of the world is true for you
 - theirs is true for them
 - they need to be consistent too
- Increase your influence by building rapport
 - step into their world
 - pace first, then lead
- Behaviours much easier to manage than identity
- Manage your 'state' before an important meeting
- Help people before they ask
 - they will feel compelled to help you back

References

- ‘Influence’ – Robert Cialdini
- ‘NLP – The New Technology of Achievement’ – Andreas & Faulkner
- ‘Influencing with Integrity’ – Genie Laborde
- NLP training – www.viewolve.co.uk
- Me: brianw@telossolutions.co.uk

