Terms of Reference

Purpose

The IFoA's Learning Change Programme consists of a series of five interconnected projects that will deliver improvements in our learning provision for members at every stage of their career. It is the first step in modernising and broadening our qualifications and lifelong learning. It will empower members to succeed in emerging professional domains, keep pace in established areas of actuarial employment, and equip members with the skills and mind set to adapt to a rapidly changing professional environment.

The Programme will deliver improvements through projects focused on our pre-Associate learning, pre-Fellowship study, modern and digital methods of assessment, and an enhanced Lifelong learning offering. The Programme will also improve the way we deliver our assessments, delivering a more robust, technologically advanced, and forward-looking service and ensure our learning offer evolves with the professions' needs.

Project 1 of the Learning Change Programme, has recently commenced. This project will review the pre-Associate curriculum and identify the competencies an actuary should have ensuring we have a qualification and framework in place that is relevant for actuaries now and into the future.

- Application, flexibility and inclusivity of a proposed IFoA competency framework to actuarial job roles
- Assess suitability of IFoA existing Associate assessment framework, suggesting alternatives where applicable.
- Propose operational systems and processes to ensure the curriculum, competency and assessment frameworks remain relevant and appropriate
